Feedback Mechanism

A 360-degree feedback system has been implemented to evaluate the Curriculum, Faculty, and Institution through insights from diverse stakeholders.

- Curriculum Feedback: Four key stakeholder groups—peers, employers, alumni, and students—assess curriculum effectiveness and relevance.
  - Peers (faculty members in BOS and external moderators) provide comparative curriculum analysis.
  - Employers offer insights on industry alignment and job market applicability.
  - Alumni share real-world applicability based on their professional experiences.
  - Students highlight challenges and learning experiences, aiding curriculum enhancement.
- Faculty Feedback: Students evaluate curriculum delivery and teaching methodologies to ensure continuous improvement.
- Institutional Feedback:
  - Teaching staff assess infrastructure and resources for effective learning.
  - Administrative and support staff provide input on institutional processes and policies.
  - Students share feedback on academic and non-academic aspects, improving overall experience.

All stakeholder feedback is reviewed by management for assessment and corrective actions, fostering continuous improvement and institutional effectiveness.
